

FLYSHEET AN-17
ENABLING CLAUSE FOR TECHNICAL ADVICE

In the performance of this purchase order, the Seller agrees to cooperate with the consultant activity by responding to invitations to meetings from authorized personnel, by providing access to technical information and research and development planning data (in original or reproduced form and excluding financial data), by delivering data as specified on the Contract Data Requirements List, and by discussing technical matters relating to this program. Subject to applicable security procedures, consultant personnel engaged in effort pertaining to work under this order are authorized access to all technical information covering work under this purchase order, including limited rights information. The foregoing requirement to cooperate shall be placed in all subcontracts/orders with vendors at any tier.

In the interaction of personnel from the Government Agency, consultant activity, Buyer and Seller, it is hereby understood that technical direction under this contract can be given to the Seller by (and will be accepted by the Seller only from) Buyer. Whenever technical direction or advice involves or requires contractual modification, this will be accomplished through the issuance of a change order to this order by the Buyer. In any event, should the Seller believe technical direction and advice involves a change in contractual requirement, he will immediately notify the Buyer.

CONTRACTING AGENCY

Air Force, (BMO)
Dept. of Navy, (NAVSEA)
Dept. of Army, (BMDSC)

CONSULTANT

TRW, Inc.
(to be named)
Army Project Engineering

END