In addition, the Seller agrees to accept, in any such subsequent contract(s), data clauses, which shall be no less favorable to the Buyer and/or Government than the terms of the data clauses in this clause.

1. Intent. The Government intends to provide for maximum practical breakout or competitive procurement of the aircraft system, including all parts, components, and subsystems (all called "parts" hereinafter in this provision) related to the aircraft. The intent extends to any requirement for such system or parts including but not limited to, foreign military sales and support of Rationalization, Standardization, and Interoperability (RSI). To accomplish this intent, the Government and the Buyer seek to either (1) acquire technical data packages with sufficient rights and technical assistance, if necessary, for competitive procurement or manufacture of such parts worldwide or; (2) provide for multiple qualification of sources of such parts in accordance with (e) below or; (3) acquire parts directly from their manufacturer. Nothing in this clause shall abrogate the Seller's obligation to pursue an aggressive Seller breakout and competitive procurement program in its purchasing and subcontracting activities.

2. Identification of Parts. Parts shall be identified in accordance with this Purchase Order.

Upon written notice of the Buyer's intent to purchase TDP's or technical assistance, the Seller shall within 60 calendar days after receipt of such notice, submit a proposal for the costs of preparation and reproduction of such TDP's, and the amount (separately stated) to be paid as compensation for the data/patent rights to be included in the TDP's and/or the cost of providing technical assistance. Within sixty (60) days after receipt of a proposal, the parties shall undertake to negotiate a firm price and/or royalty arrangement for such TDP's in accordance with a schedule mutually agreed upon.

(1) The scope of these Data Rights shall cover all uses of all or any part of the Seller's data. The Government will endeavor to accomplish its purpose with less than unlimited rights, but the Government through the Buyer reserves the right to acquire unlimited rights. The rights to be acquired may be procured on a royalty and/or lump sum basis.

(2) The scope of the Patent Rights shall be a license under any applicable U.S. or foreign patent or patent application that the contractor owns or controls. The scope of the license shall be to the extent necessary to cover any use of such patent or patent application when using this data in the manufacture or sale of such parts by or for the U.S. Government and/or foreign Governments for other than commercial purposes.

(3) The scope of the Technical Assistance shall be Seller services necessary to transfer "know-how" required to manufacture the part described in the TDP. The scope may include plant access, services of Seller's qualified technical personnel at its facilities, and services of Seller's qualified technical personnel at a third party Seller's facilities. Such services may require personnel qualified in manufacturing, engineering, and requests for review of specifications and quality control. Further, such access and services shall be rendered to the Government, the Buyer, and third part Sellers selected by the Government who have a contract to manufacture the part. This right to technical assistance shall terminate three (3) years after Government and/or the Buyer acceptance of the TDP unless a longer period is negotiated as part of the purchase of the TDP.

(B) The Seller's right to compensation for data rights shall apply only to data which the Seller would be entitled to mark with the limited rights legend in accordance with the Contract clause of this contract titled "Rights in Technical Data Non-Commercial Items ", DFARS 252.227-7013, and "Rights in Noncommercial Computer Software and Noncommercial Software Documents", DFARS 252.227-7014. The Seller's entitlement to mark the data shall be determined as of the time the Seller receives notice of the Government's and/or Buyer's intent to purchase TDPs. The following factors may, among others, be considered in determining a fair and reasonable compensation for such great rights in data:

(1) The benefit actually received by the Government from its use of the data.

(2) The private expense incurred by the Seller in developing the data.

(3) The extent to which the data conferred a competitive advantage (in terms of potential for future business, whether commercial or government) to the Seller at the time of its use by the Government and/or Buyer.

(4) The extent to which the competitive advantage above was enhanced by virtue of the contract work.

(5) The extent to which the data was developed by Government funds.

(6) The nature of the Government's use and the extent to which the Seller's interest is protected during the use.

(7) Any obligations of the Seller to pay others for the use of the data.

(8) The terms of any previous sales or offers of sales of the data or products to which the data pertains.

(9) The extent to which the Seller's competence in the field was brought about by prior Government contracts.

(10) The degree of originality represented by the data (routine engineering versus high creativity).

(C) If it is deemed necessary by the Government through the Buyer to use data delivered under this contract with limited or restricted rights, with greater rights prior to completion of negotiations for such rights, the Government, through the Buyer, may do so upon giving written notice to the Seller ten (10) days in advance. This notice will specify the data which is to be so used, and will contain a brief explanation of the nature and conditions of the use. Thereafter, the parties shall promptly complete their negotiation for such greater rights. If an agreement is not reached within a reasonable time, the Buyer shall treat the question of compensation for greater rights in data as a disputed fact under the "Disputes" clause of this contract.

4. It is further agreed that all TDP's procured pursuant to this clause will be subject to the Warranty of Data (DFARS 252.246-7001) clause of this contract.

5. Qualification of Additional Vendors. The Government through the Buyer has the right to require the Seller to qualify at least one (1) additional competitive source for all parts, to permit the competitive purchase of the parts by the Government and/or the Buyer. This right may be exercised from time to time for the term of this contract. Upon written notice from the Buyer, the Seller shall, to the extent possible, promptly proceed with, and complete the qualification of parts as required at prices to be negotiated. Negotiated price shall include price of Seller support to qualification effort. In qualifying vendors, the Seller shall use the same basis or standard to the extent possible, in order that no competitive advantage or disadvantage is given to any vendor. When required by the Buyer to qualify an additional source, the additional vendor or source shall be other than the Seller, unless the Buyer specifically approves the Seller as the additional source. The Seller shall not cancel an existing order placed with a qualified vendor or vendors in the expectation of qualifying an alternate vendor without obtaining prior written approval from the Buyer. Any disagreement as to price, terms or enforcement of this clause shall be resolved using the procedures of the clause titled "Disputes".

6. Subcontractors and Vendors.

(A) The Seller is responsible for securing compliance by its subcontractors and vendors with the requirements of this clause. The Seller shall use diligent efforts to contract only with suppliers who will accept this clause. In cases in which the Seller, after diligent efforts, is unable to persuade a subcontractor or vendor to accept this clause, the Seller shall report the entire circumstances, including alternate approaches to resolving the problem to the Buyer, who after thirty (30) calendar days shall direct the Seller as to action to be taken. The Seller shall follow the course of action directed by the Buyer. Any impact will be evaluated, an equitable adjustment to the contract price will be negotiated, if appropriate, in accordance with the procedure of the clause of this contract titled "Changes". The Seller shall maintain an updated list of all subcontractors/vendors granted a waiver of this provision by the Buyer and make a copy of such list available to the Buyer upon request. The Buyer reserves the right to request identification of substantiating correspondence in the event of waiver disagreements.

(B) Notification in accordance with the appropriate clause titled "Rights in Technical Data and Computer Software" of any item, component or process for which technical data shall be made available to the Buyer at every other Program Progress Review when requested by the Buyer. Such requests for inclusion of this information into the Program Progress Review shall be submitted to the Seller thirty (30) calendar days prior to the scheduled Program Progress Review.
