- (p) Relation to Patents. Nothing contained in this clause shall imply a license to the Government under any patent, copyright, or trademark affecting the scope of any license or other right otherwise granted to the Government under any patent.
- (q) Limitation on Charges for Rights in Technical Data or Computer Software.

(1) The contractor shall not charge to this contract any cost, including but not limited to license fees, royalties, or similar charges, in technical data or computer software to be delivered under this contract when -

- (i) The Government has acquired, by any means, the same or greater rights in the technical data or computer software;
- (ii) The technical data or computer software is available to the public without restrictions.

(2) The limitation in paragraph (q)(1) of this clause -

(i) Includes costs charged by a subcontractor or supplier, at any tier, or costs incurred by the contractor to acquire or obtain subcontractor or supplier technical data or computer software if the subcontractor or supplier has been paid for such rights under this contract or under a license conveying the rights to the Government; and does not include the reasonable costs of repackaging or mailing the documents or other media in which the technical data or computer software will be delivered.

(r) Applicability to Subcontractors or Suppliers.

(1) The contractor shall ensure that the rights afforded its subcontractors and suppliers under 10 U.S.C. §2320, 101-11.6, and the identification, assertion, and delivery processes of paragraph (i) of this clause are recognized and protected.

(2) Whenever any technical data or computer software for noncommercial items is to be obtained from a subcontractor or supplier for delivery to the Government under this contract, the contractor shall flow down this clause to all of its subcontractors or suppliers (at any tier), and require its subcontractors, vendors, or suppliers to do so, without alteration, except to identify the subcontractor or supplier to be used to enlarge or diminish the Government's, the contractor's, or a higher-tier subcontractor's or supplier's technical data or computer software.

(3) Technical data or computer software required to be delivered by a subcontractor or supplier shall normally be delivered by a higher-tier contractor, subcontractor, or supplier. However, when there is a requirement in the prime contract for technical data or computer software which may be submitted with other than unlimited rights by a subcontractor or supplier, then said subcontractor or supplier may fulfill its requirement by submitting such technical data or computer software directly to the Government through a higher-tier contractor, subcontractor, or supplier.

(4) The contractor and higher-tier subcontractors or suppliers shall not use their power to award contracts as a means to deprive the Government of rights in technical data or computer software from their subcontractors or suppliers.

(5) In no event shall the contractor use its obligation to recognize and protect subcontractor or supplier rights in technical data or computer software as an excuse for failing to satisfy its contractual obligation to the Government.

(End of clause)

CI.227-003 VALIDATION OF RESTRICTIVE MARKINGS ON TECHNICAL DATA AND COMPUTER SOFTWARE (FEB 2011)

The term "contractor" shall mean "Seller". Any requests from or to the Contracting Officer shall be through Buyer.

(a) The Government shall presume that a contractor's asserted use or release restrictions are justified on the basis that the item (technical data or computer software), component, or process was developed exclusively at private expense for commercial items as defined in 48 CFR 101-11.6. The Government will not challenge such assertions unless information the Government demonstrates that the item or process was not developed exclusively at private expense.

(b) Justification. The contractor is responsible for maintaining records sufficient to justify the validity of its markings. The Government has the right to use, modify, reproduce, perform, display, release, or disclose technical data or computer software required to be delivered under the contract or subcontract. Except for commercial items, the contractor shall be prepared to provide the Contracting Officer a written justification for such restrictive markings in response to a challenge under paragraph (c) of this clause.

(c) Pre-challenge Request for Information.

(1) The Contracting Officer may request the contractor to furnish a written explanation for any restriction asserted on the basis that the item, component, or process was developed exclusively at private expense. If, upon review of the records, the Contracting Officer remains unable to ascertain the basis of the restrictive marking, the Contracting Officer may request the contractor to furnish additional information in the records of, or otherwise in the possession of or reasonably available to, the contractor to justify the validity of any restrictive marking on technical data or computer software, accompanied with supporting evidence. The contractor shall submit such written data within a reasonable time after it is requested by the Contracting Officer.

(2) If the Contracting Officer, after reviewing the written data furnished pursuant to paragraph (c)(1) of this clause, determines that reasonable grounds exist to question the validity of a restrictive marking, and that continued adherence to the marking would make impracticable the subsequent competitive acquisition of the item, component, or process to which the technical data or computer software relates, the Contracting Officer shall follow the procedure in paragraph (d) of this clause.

(3) If the contractor fails to respond to the Contracting Officer's request for information under paragraph (c)(1) of this clause, and the Contracting Officer determines that continued adherence to the marking would make impracticable the subsequent competitive acquisition of the item, component, or process to which the technical data or computer software relates, the Contracting Officer shall determine the validity of the marking as described in paragraph (d) of this clause.

(d) Challenge.

(1) Notwithstanding any provision of this contract concerning inspection and acceptance, if the Contracting Officer determines that a challenge to the restrictive marking is warranted, the Contracting Officer shall send a written challenge notice to the contractor or subcontractor asserting the restrictive markings. Such challenge shall:

(i) State the specific grounds for challenging the asserted restriction;

(ii) Require a response within sixty (60) days justifying and providing sufficient evidence as to the current validity of the restriction;

(iii) State that a Contracting Officer's final decision, issued pursuant to paragraph (f) of this clause, sustaining the validity of the restrictive marking identical to the asserted restriction, within the three-year period preceding the challenge, shall serve as justification for the restrictive marking if the validated restriction was asserted by the same contractor or subcontractor (or any licensee of such contractor or subcontractor to which such notice is being provided); and

(iv) State that failure to respond to the challenge notice may result in issuance of a final decision pursuant to paragraph (f) of this clause.

(2) The Contracting Officer shall extend the time for response if the contractor or subcontractor submits a written request for additional time to prepare a response.

(3) The contractor's or subcontractors written response shall be considered a claim within the meaning of the Contract Disputes Act of 1978, and shall be certified in the form prescribed at FAR Subpart 33.207, regardless of dollar amount.

(4) A contractor or subcontractor receiving challenges to the same restrictive markings from more than one Contracting Officer shall notify each Contracting Officer of the existence of more than one challenge. The notice shall also state which Contracting Officer issued the first unanswered challenge. The Contracting Officer initiating the first unanswered challenge after consultation with the other Contracting Officers, shall formulate and distribute a schedule for responding to each of the challenge notices to all parties. The schedule shall afford the contractor an opportunity to respond to each challenge notice. All parties will comply with the schedule.

(e) Final Decision When Contractor or Subcontractor Fails to Respond. When a contractor or subcontractor fails to respond to a challenge notice, other than a failure to respond to a challenge related to a commercial item, the Contracting Officer will issue a final decision to the contractor or subcontractor in accordance with the Disputes clause of this contract pertaining to the validity of the restrictive marking. The final decision shall be issued as soon as possible after the expiration of the time period of paragraph (d)(1)(ii) or (d)(2)(i). Following issuance of the final decision, the Contracting Officer will comply with the procedures in paragraphs (f)(2)(i) through (f)(2)(iii).

(f) Final Decision When the Contractor Responds.

(1) If the Contracting Officer determines that the contractor or subcontractor has justified the validity of the restrictive marking, the Contracting Officer shall issue a final decision to the contractor or subcontractor sustaining the validity of the restrictive marking. This final decision shall be issued within sixty (60) days after receipt of the contractor's or subcontractors response to the challenge notice, or within such longer period that the Contracting Officer has notified the contractor or subcontractor that the Government will require. The notification of a longer period will be made within sixty (60) days after receipt of the response to the challenge notice.

(2)(i) If the Contracting Officer determines that the validity of the restrictive marking is not justified, the Contracting Officer shall issue a final decision to the contractor or subcontractor in accordance with the Disputes clause of this contract. Notwithstanding the Disputes clause, the final decision shall be issued within sixty (60) days after receipt of the contractor's or subcontractors response to the challenge notice, or within such longer period that the Contracting Officer has notified the contractor or subcontractor that the Government will require. The notification of a longer period will be made within sixty (60) days after receipt of the response to the challenge notice.

(ii) The Government agrees that it will continue to be bound by the restrictive marking for ninety (90) days from the issuance of the Contracting Officer's final decision. The contractor agrees that if it intends to file suit in the United States Claims Court, it shall provide a notice of intent to file suit to the Contracting Officer within ninety (90) days from the issuance of the Contracting Officer's final decision under paragraph (f)(2)(i) of this clause. If the contractor fails to appeal, file suit, or provide a notice of intent to file suit within the ninety-day period, the Government may cancel or ignore the restrictive markings, and the failure to take the required action constitutes agreement with the Contracting Officer's final decision.

(iii) The Government agrees that it will continue to be bound by the restrictive marking where a notice of intent to file suit in the United States Claims Court is provided to the Contracting Officer within ninety (90) days from the issuance of the final decision under paragraph (f)(2)(i) of this clause. The Government will no longer be bound, and the contractor agrees that the Government may cancel or ignore the restrictive markings, if the contractor fails to file its suit within one (1) year after issuance of the Contracting Officer's final decision. Notwithstanding the foregoing, where the Government agency's Director, Office of Contracts determines that under unusual circumstances will not permit waiting for the filing of a suit in the United States Claims Court, the contractor agrees that the Government may, following notice to the contractor, authorize release or disclosure of the technical data or computer software. Such release or disclosure may be made at any time after issuance of the Contracting Officer final decision, and will not affect the contractor's right to file suit in the United States where its restrictive markings are ultimately upheld, or to pursue other relief, if any, as may be provided in the contract.

(iv) The Government agrees that it will be bound by the restrictive marking where an appeal or suit is filed pursuant to the Contract Disputes Act until final disposition by an agency Board of Contract Appeals or the United States Claims Court. Notwithstanding the foregoing, where the Government agency's Director, Office of Contracts determines that under unusual circumstances will not permit waiting for the filing of a suit in the United States Claims Court, the contractor agrees that the Government may, following notice to the contractor, authorize release or disclosure of the technical data or computer software. Such release or disclosure may be made at any time after issuance of the Contracting Officer final decision, and will not affect the contractor's right to file suit in the United States where its restrictive markings are ultimately upheld, or to pursue other relief, if any, as may be provided in the contract.

foregoing, where the Government agency's Director, Office of Contracts determines, following notice to the contractor, that compelling circumstances will not permit awaiting the decision by such Board of Contract Appeals or the United States Court of Federal Claims, the contractor agrees that the Government may authorize release or disclosure of the technical data or computer software, if any, that may be made at any time after issuance of the final decision and will not affect the contractor's right to damages or other relief, where its restrictive markings are ultimately upheld, or to pursue other relief, if any, as may be provided by law.

(g) Final Disposition of Appeal or Suit.

(1) If the contractor or subcontractor appeals or files suit, and if, upon final disposition of the appeal or suit, the Contractor's decision is sustained:

(i) The restrictive marking on the technical data or computer software shall be struck, canceled, ignored, or corrected at the contractor's expense; and

(ii) If the restrictive marking is found not to be substantially justified, the contractor or subcontractor asserting the restriction shall be liable to the Government for payment of the cost to the Government of reviewing the restrictive marking and the fees and expenses (as defined in 28 U.S.C. 2412(d)(2)(A)) incurred by the Government in challenging the marking, unless special circumstances make such payment unjust.

(2) If the contractor or subcontractor appeals or files suit, and if, upon final disposition of the appeal or suit, the Contractor's decision is not sustained:

(i) The Government shall continue to be bound by the restrictive marking; and

(ii) The Government shall be liable to the contractor for payment of fees and other expenses (as defined in 28 U.S.C. 2412(d)(2)(A)) incurred by the contractor or subcontractor in defending the marking if the challenge by the Government is found not to be in good faith.

(h) Duration of Right to Challenge. The Government, when there are reasonable grounds, may review and challenge any restriction asserted by the contractor or subcontractor on the Government's rights to use, modify, reproduce, release, or disclose technical data or computer software delivered, to be delivered, or otherwise provided by the Contractor or subcontractor in performance of a contract. During the period within three (3) years of final payment on a contract, or within three (3) years of the date of the technical data or computer software to the Government, whichever is later, the Contracting Officer may review and determine whether to challenge any restriction. The Government may, however, challenge a restriction on the release, disclosure, or use of technical data or computer software at any time if such technical data or computer software:

(1) Is publicly available;

(2) Has been furnished to the United States without restriction; or

(3) Has been otherwise made available without restriction.

(i) Decision Not to Challenge. The absence of a challenge to an asserted restriction shall not constitute validation of the Contractor's decision. The Contractor's final decision resolving a formal challenge by sustaining the validity of a restrictive marking, or the agency Board of Contract Appeals or a court of competent jurisdiction sustaining the assertion, constitutes validation of the Contractor's decision under 28 U.S.C. 2321.

(j) Privity of Contract. The contractor or subcontractor agrees that the Contracting Officer may transact matters with subcontractors at any tier that assert restrictive markings or assert restrictions on the Government's right to use, perform, display, or disclose technical data or computer software. However, neither this clause nor any action taken under this clause shall create or imply privity of contract between the Government and subcontractors.

(k) Flowdown. The contractor or subcontractor agrees to insert this clause in contractual instruments with its subcontractors or suppliers, any tier requiring the delivery of technical data or computer software, except contractual instruments for commercial components.

(End of clause)

Suspect counterfeit electronic part means an electronic part for which credible evidence (including, but not limited to authentication testing) provides reasonable doubt that the electronic part is authentic.

(b) Acceptable counterfeit electronic part detection and avoidance system. The contractor shall establish and maintain an acceptable counterfeit electronic part detection and avoidance system. Failure to maintain an acceptable counterfeit electronic part detection and avoidance system, as defined in this clause, may result in disapproval of the contractor's purchasing system and affect costs of counterfeit electronic parts or suspect counterfeit electronic parts and the cost of rework or corrective action to remedy the use or inclusion of such parts.

(c) System criteria. A counterfeit electronic part detection and avoidance system shall include risk-based policies that address, at a minimum, the following areas:

(1) The training of personnel.

(2) The inspection and testing of electronic parts, including criteria for acceptance and rejection. Tests and inspections shall be in accordance with accepted Government-and Industry-recognized techniques. Selection of tests and inspections shall be based on minimizing risk to the Government. Determination of risk shall be based on the assessed probability of receiving a counterfeit electronic part; the probability that the inspection or test selected will detect a counterfeit electronic part; and the potential negative consequences of a counterfeit electronic part being installed (e.g., human safety, mission success) where such consequences are material to the contractor.

(3) Processes to abolish counterfeit parts proliferation within the contractor's supply chain.

(4) Risk-based processes that enable tracking of electronic parts from the original manufacturer to product acceptance. Whether the electronic parts are supplied as discrete electronic parts or are contained in assemblies, in accordance with the clause at CI.246-003, Sources of Electronic Parts (also see paragraph (c)(2) of this clause).

(5) Use of suppliers in accordance with the clause at CI.246-003.

(6) Reporting and quarantining of counterfeit electronic parts and suspect counterfeit electronic parts. Reporting is required to the Contracting Officer and to the Government-Industry Data Exchange Program (GIDEP) within 30 days after the contractor becomes aware of, or has reason to suspect that, any electronic part or end item, component, part, or assembly containing electronic parts by the Government, or purchased by a contractor for delivery to, or on behalf of, the Government, contains counterfeit or suspect counterfeit electronic parts. Counterfeit electronic parts and suspect counterfeit electronic parts shall be quarantined as evidence along with original documentation, and shall not be returned to the seller or otherwise returned to the supplier until the time that the parts are determined to be authentic.

(7) Methodologies to identify suspect counterfeit parts and to rapidly determine if a suspect counterfeit part is, in fact, counterfeit.

(8) Design, operation, and maintenance of systems to detect and avoid counterfeit electronic parts and suspect counterfeit electronic parts. The contractor may elect to use current Government-or Industry-recognized standards to meet this requirement.

(9) Flow down of counterfeit detection and avoidance requirements, including applicable system criteria provided here, to all levels in the supply chain that are responsible for buying or selling electronic parts or assemblies containing electronic parts, and performing authentication testing.

(10) Process for keeping continually informed of current counterfeiting information and trends, including detection and avoidance techniques contained in appropriate industry standards, and using such information and techniques for continuously updating processes.

(11) Process for screening GIDEP reports and other credible sources of counterfeiting information to avoid the purchase of counterfeit electronic parts.

(12) Control of obsolete electronic parts in order to maximize the availability and use of authentic, originally designed electronic parts throughout the product's life cycle.

(d) The contractor shall submit a comprehensive description of their counterfeit electronic part detection and avoidance system to the Contracting Officer for review and acceptance within 60 days after contract award. This submission shall include the the contractor and subcontractors to select contractor-approved suppliers. In addition, Government review and evaluation of the contractor's policies and procedures will be accomplished as part of the evaluation of the contractor's purchasing system.

(e) The contractor shall include the substance of this clause, excluding the introductory text and including only paragraphs in subcontracts, including subcontracts for commercial items, for electronic parts or assemblies containing electronics parts.

CI.246-003 SOURCES OF ELECTRONIC PARTS (NOV 2018)

This clause applies if the Contract is for electronic parts or assemblies containing electronics parts, unless Seller is the manufacturer of the electronic parts. The term "Contractor" means Seller and the term "subcontractor" means Seller's suppliers. In paragraph (b)(3)(ii)(A), the term "Contracting Officer" means "Buyer's Authorized Procurement Representative." The notification shall include, at a minimum, identification of the electronic parts being procured, identification of Seller's contract providing such electronic parts, Seller's rationale on acceptability of procuring such parts (including risk mitigation), and the product using such parts (by lot or serial numbers).

(a) Definitions. As used in this clause—

Authorized aftermarket manufacturer means an organization that fabricates a part under a contract with, or with the authority of, the original component manufacturer based on the original component manufacturer's designs, formulas, and specifications.

Authorized supplier means a supplier, distributor, or an aftermarket manufacturer with a contractual arrangement with the written authority of, the original manufacturer or current design activity to buy, stock, repackage, sell, or distribute the part.

Contract manufacturer means a company that produces goods under contract for another company under the label of the original component manufacturer.

Contractor-approved supplier means a supplier that does not have a contractual agreement with the original component manufacturer, but has been identified as trustworthy by a contractor or subcontractor.

Electronic part means an integrated circuit, a discrete electronic component (including, but not limited to, a transistor, diode), or a circuit assembly.

Original component manufacturer means an organization that designs and/or engineers a part and is entitled to any intellectual property rights to that part.

Original equipment manufacturer means a company that manufactures products that it has designed from purchased components. Those products are sold under the company's brand name.

Original manufacturer means the original component manufacturer, the original equipment manufacturer, or the contractor.

(b) Selecting suppliers. The Contractor shall—

(1) First obtain electronic parts that are in production by the original manufacturer or an authorized aftermarket manufacturer that are available in stock from—

- (i) The original manufacturers of the parts;
- (ii) Their authorized suppliers; or
- (iii) Suppliers that obtain such parts exclusively from the original manufacturers of the parts or their authorized suppliers.

(2) If electronic parts are not available as provided in paragraph (b)(1) of this clause, obtain electronic parts that are from the original manufacturer or an authorized aftermarket manufacturer, and that are not currently available in stock from the original manufacturer or an authorized aftermarket manufacturer.

paragraph (b)(1) of this clause, from suppliers identified by the Contractor as contractor-approved suppliers, provided

(i) For identifying and approving such contractor-approved suppliers, the Contractor uses established counterfeit pre standards and processes (including inspection, testing, and authentication), such as the DoD-adopted standards at ht

(ii) The Contractor assumes responsibility for the authenticity of parts provided by such contractor-approved supplier compliance of such parts with the standards specified in this contract; and

(iii) The Contractor's selection of such contractor-approved suppliers is subject to review, audit, and approval by the generally in conjunction with a contractor purchasing system review or other surveillance of purchasing practices by administration office, or if the Government obtains credible evidence that a contractor-approved supplier has provided The Contractor may proceed with the acquisition of electronic parts from a contractor-approved supplier unless otherwise Contracting Officer; or

(3)(i) Take the actions in paragraph (b)(3)(ii) of this clause if the Contractor—

(A) Obtains an electronic part from—

(1) A source other than any of the sources identified in paragraph (b)(1) or (b)(2) of this clause, due to non-availability or

(2) A subcontractor (other than the original manufacturer) that refuses to accept flowdown of this clause; or

(B) Cannot confirm that an electronic part is new or previously unused and that it has not been commingled in supplier stock with used, refurbished, reclaimed, or returned parts.

(ii) If the contractor obtains an electronic part or cannot confirm an electronic part pursuant to paragraph (b)(3)(i) c

(A) Promptly notify the Contracting Officer in writing. If such notification is required for an electronic part to be used in assemblies to be acquired under a single contract, the Contractor may submit one notification for the lot, providing information on assemblies containing the parts (e.g., serial numbers);

(B) Be responsible for inspection, testing, and authentication, in accordance with existing applicable industry standards;

(C) Make documentation of inspection, testing, and authentication of such electronic parts available to the Government;

(c) Traceability. If the Contractor is not the original manufacturer of, or authorized supplier for, an electronic part, the Contractor shall

(1) Have risk-based processes (taking into consideration the consequences of failure of an electronic part) that enable the Contractor to establish traceability from the original manufacturer to product acceptance by the Government, whether the electronic part is a discrete electronic part or is contained in an assembly;

(2) If the Contractor cannot establish this traceability from the original manufacturer for a specific electronic part, be responsible for inspection, testing, and authentication, in accordance with existing applicable industry standards; and

(3)(i) Maintain documentation of traceability (paragraph (c)(1) of this clause) or the inspection, testing, and authentication of such electronic parts if traceability cannot be established (paragraph (c)(2) of this clause) in accordance with FAR Subpart 4.7; and

(ii) Make such documentation available to the Government upon request.

(d) Government sources. Contractors and subcontractors are still required to comply with the requirements of paragraph (b)(3) of this clause, as applicable, if—

(1) Authorized to purchase electronic parts from the Federal Supply Schedule;

- (2) Purchasing electronic parts from suppliers accredited by the Defense Microelectronics Activity; or
- (3) Requisitioning electronic parts from Government inventory/stock under the authority of FAR Clause 52.251-1, G Sources.
 - (i) The cost of any required inspection, testing, and authentication of such parts may be charged as a direct cost.
 - (ii) The Government is responsible for the authenticity of the requisitioned parts. If any such part is subsequently found to be a suspect counterfeit, the Government will—
 - (A) Promptly replace such part at no charge; and
 - (B) Consider an adjustment in the contract schedule to the extent that replacement of the counterfeit or suspect counterfeit caused a delay in performance.
- (e) Subcontracts. The Contractor shall include the substance of this clause, including this paragraph (e), in subcontracts for commercial items that are for electronic parts or assemblies containing electronic parts, unless the original manufacturer.
