During evaluation of proposals, the Government may, after discussions with the Buyer and consideration of ways to avoid the conflict of interest, insert a special provision in the resulting contract which shall disqualify the offeror from further consideration for award of future contracts.

3. The organizational conflict of interest clause included in this solicitation may be modified or deleted during negotiations.

D. ORGANIZATIONAL CONFLICT OF INTEREST (AFMC) (AUG 2002)

1. The following restrictions and definitions apply to prevent conflicting roles which may bias the Seller's judgment or objectivity, or to preclude the Seller from obtaining an unfair competitive advantage in concurrent or future acquisitions.

(a) Descriptions or definitions:

"Development" means all efforts towards solution of broadly-defined problems. This may encompass research, evaluating technical feasibility, proof of design and test, or engineering of programs not yet approved for acquisition or operation.

"Proprietary Information" means all information designated as proprietary in accordance with law and regulation, and held in confidence or disclosed under restriction to prevent uncontrolled distribution. Examples include limited or restricted data, trade secrets, sensitive financial information, and computer software; and may appear in cost and pricing data or involve classified information.

"Seller" means the business entity receiving the award of this contract, its parents, affiliates, divisions and subsidiaries.

"System" means the system that is the subject of this contract.

"System Life" means all phases of the system's development, production, or support.

"Systems Engineering" means preparing specifications, identifying and resolving interface problems, developing test requirements, evaluating test data, and supervising design.

"Technical Direction" means developing work statements, determining parameters, directing other Contractors' operations, or resolving technical controversies.

(b) Restrictions

(1) The Seller shall perform systems engineering and/or technical direction for B-52 SOJS, its integration into the B-52H aircraft, and its integration into the AEA SOS, but will not have overall contractual responsibility for the AEA SOS architecture, development, performance allocation to component platforms, component platform performance assessment, or other SOS integration (except as provided for in Associate Contractor Agreements addressed elsewhere in this contract). The parties recognize that the Seller shall occupy a highly influential and responsible position in determining the B-52 SOJ system's basic concepts and selecting the subcontractors who will participate in technology maturation efforts and eventually produce SOJS hardware. The Seller's judgment and recommendations must be objective, impartial, and independent. To avoid the prospect of the Seller's judgment or recommendations being influenced by its own products or capabilities, or those of another division of the company, or those of its partners, it is agreed that should the B-52 SOJ Seller has favored products or platforms produced by its own division, subsidiaries, sister divisions, or partners, the Seller is precluded for a five year period from award of a DoD contract to supply production hardware or to develop future increments of the B-52 SOJS.

(2) In the course of subcontractor selection, the Seller will evaluate the other subcontractors' B-52H SOJS subcontract proposals. To ensure objectivity, the Seller shall establish suitable firewalls, subject to Government and Buyer review, that assure the Government and the Buyer an objective and comprehensive evaluation. If satisfactory firewalls cannot be assured or approved firewalls are not maintained, the Seller, its subsidiaries, sister divisions, or partners will be precluded from award of any supply or service contract or subcontract for the resulting B-52H SOJ hardware or software. This does not apply to other technical evaluations concerning the system.

(3) The Seller may gain access to proprietary information of other companies during contract performance. The Seller agrees to enter into company-to-company agreements to (1) protect another company's information from unauthorized use or disclosure for as long as it is considered proprietary by the other company and

(2) to refrain from using the information for any purpose other than that for which it was furnished. For information purposes, the Seller shall furnish copies of these agreements to the Buyer and the Contracting Officer. These agreements are not intended to protect information which is available to the Government or to the Seller from other sources and furnished voluntarily without restriction.

(4) The above restrictions shall be included in all subcontracts, teaming arrangements, and other agreements calling for performance of work which is subject to the organizational conflict of interest restrictions identified in this clause, unless excused in writing by the Contracting Officer.

E. APPLICATION FOR EQUIPMENT FREQUENCY AUTHORIZATION

The Seller must insure that radio frequencies are available to support electromagnetic radiating devices in their intended environment and that adequate protection from interference can be provided to receiving devices. Accordingly, the Seller shall submit DD Form 1494, Application for Equipment Frequency Allocation, in triplicate to the Buyer with 35 days after the award of this contract. Instructions for preparing the form are contained in AFI 33-118, Radio Frequency Spectrum Management, and on the form itself. Upon verification of frequency requirements, the Seller shall submit, if required, information to prepare a "Standard Frequency Action Format (SFAF) Request" to the Buyer. Instructions for preparing an SFAF are contained in AFI 33-118. Attention is directed to DFARS 252.235-7003, Frequency Authorization.

F. PATENT RIGHTS

Pursuant to the patent rights clause of the prime contract, all documents and information required by the patent rights and/or patent reporting clauses set forth in this document shall be submitted to Administrative Contracting Officer and to: AFMCLO/JAN, 1864 4th St., Bldg 15, WPAFB OH 45433.
